

Despite all the difficulties, it was the best and most wonderful experience of my life.

I've wanted to study abroad for a long time. My biggest dream was to study in France, as I have always been interested in French language and culture. I wished to improve my French skills and my dream came true.

I have gone to Lyon, France, for the autumn semester of my Erasmus+ studies. I studied at Jean Moulin University (Université Jean Moulin Lyon 3).

My beginning was really difficult because it was the first time when I was travelling alone to another country. I felt stressed because I had no place to stay and it was very challenging to find the accommodation in Lyon. However, Jean Moulin university helped me to find the accommodation. I got a place in a private student residence. I lived with another student. The living in residence was convenient because the university was ten minutes away from my place.

Studying at Jean Moulin University was not easy. It required a lot of patience and efforts but I really enjoyed my studies at this university. I really appreciated my French classes very much because I learned interesting things about French culture and people. I studied English and French history. Also I improved my English and French speaking skills. Jean Moulin University provided the best conditions for studying. The professors were very kind and helpful. When I asked for help, they always helped me. These studies were really interesting and useful for me.

My studies didn't take up all my time, and I also had the opportunity to travel around Lyon. I visited many wonderful and interesting places in Lyon. The city of Lyon is located between two beautiful rivers the Rhône and the Saône. I love the stunning and majestic nature of Lyon. I saw impressive churches Cathédrale Saint-Jean-Baptiste, Basilique Notre-Dame de Fourvière. These churches left huge impression for me. I really liked the spectacular architecture of these churches. The Amphitheatre Gallo-Roman is the most wonderful amphitheatre I have ever seen! I love the city of Lyon! This city is really beautiful! I also like people who are very helpful.

Despite all the difficulties, it was the best and most wonderful experience of my life. I am glad I had the opportunity to study abroad. I met friendly people in Lyon. I found a friend who supports and helps me. This experience has given me more confidence. I don't regret this decision! Thank you very much Jean Moulin University for this opportunity! Merci!
