

I had an opportunity to meet people from different cultural backgrounds, which helped me learn more about different countries.

I just came back from my second Erasmus+ studies in Latvia. I really enjoyed it, I met new friends and practiced not only English but also Korean and Latvian languages, as I took additional Latvian language courses. I had an opportunity to meet people from different cultural backgrounds, which helped me learn more about different countries. I had time not only to study but also to spend time with my new friends. Together we practiced different languages, helped each other learn our cultures, taught how to cook our traditional food. During my stay in Latvia, I also visited museums and celebrations which helped to learn more about Latvia. Overall, my Erasmus experience was amazing, and I would recommend everybody to go to study abroad at least for one semester.
