

You may discover something new about yourself while studying here.

I am currently preparing for my second Erasmus mobility for the spring semester. Less than a month ago, I just came back from South Korea, where I studied at Ewha Womans University. The autumn semester that I spent at this university left me with many impressions.

The atmosphere at the university is really amazing. The lecturers are really helpful and friendly, and they have often recommended places we could go for a weekend or different events we could visit, which never disappointed! The student community is not only there to help you if you have any problems, but also to spend time with you, show you around the city or the places to visit, which helps you to get to know the culture.

Studying here provided me not only a high level of education, but also a completely different atmosphere and experience. You may discover something new about yourself while studying here.

I recommend both the university and the country!

