

I had the pleasure of having classes with some professors who were exceptionally knowledgeable, approachable, and passionate about their work.

Embarking on Erasmus mobility in Jaén, Spain was an adventure. The academic experience at the University of Jaén was enriching, with many adaptations needed to adjust to completely different conditions and situations. I had the pleasure of having classes with some professors who were exceptionally knowledgeable, approachable, and passionate about their work. Furthermore, Spain's rich culture and vibrant traditions allowed me to immerse myself in the community. Jaén's strategic location in the heart of Andalusia allowed me to easily explore the region's many treasures, such as Cordoba, Sevilla, Ronda, and Granada, and the landscapes of Jaén itself added to the adventure. Moreover, the friendships formed with both local and diverse international students made the social life dynamic. Overall, my Erasmus journey in Jaén was unforgettable, and left me with cherished memories, valuable lessons. I am glad to have had the opportunity to study abroad.

