

MONTELUX

Legal & Compliance Internship

About Montelux

Montelux is a fintech company, reinventing financial services for individuals and businesses. We are currently undergoing a key structural process: obtaining an EMI (Electronic Money Institution) license from the Central Bank of Lithuania.

What You Will Do

You will work alongside the founder, the executive team, and the MLRO (Money Laundering Reporting Officer) on all strategic steps related to the licensing process. You will play an active role in shaping Montelux's legal and regulatory framework.

Main Responsibilities

- Assist in drafting, reviewing, and organizing the documentation required for the EMI license application.
- Conduct regulatory monitoring regarding requirements from the Central Bank of Lithuania and the EBA (European Banking Authority).
- Support the MLRO on compliance, AML, and KYC topics.

What You Will Learn

- Gain in-depth understanding of regulatory requirements for obtaining an EMI license in Europe.
- Participate in a high-impact, strategic project at the heart of an ambitious fintech.
- Develop your skills in compliance, risk management, AML/CFT, governance, and more.

Profile

- Student in law, compliance, or business school with a focus on legal/regulatory subjects (Bachelor's degree level or higher).
- Strong interest in financial regulation and AML/KYC issues.
- Rigorous, organized, proactive, and autonomous, with a strong motivation to grow within an early-stage fintech.
- Good written and spoken English.
